THE MANAGER AND COACHES

LEMON, Robert Granville

Age: 57; Born: September 22, 1920, in San Bernardino, Calif. Ht.: 6'; Wt.: 185 lbs. Threw right and batted lefthanded. Married Jane McGee. Children: Jeff 30, Jim 27 and Jerry 25. Lives in Long Beach, Calif.

Bob succeeded Paul Richards as manager of the White Sox following the 1976 season; he took over a last place club that had won only 64 games while losing 97 and led it into pennant contention for a good share of the 1977 season. Under Lemon's leadership, the White Sox held first place continuously from July 1st until mid-August and finally wound up in third place, with 90 victories as against 72 defeats. This meant that, with Lemon as manager, the White Sox went from 33 games under the .500 mark to 18 games above .500 in just one year.

Lemon was elected to Baseball's Hall of Fame January 22, 1976, an honor justly deserved. Bob was an outstanding American League pitcher with the Cleveland Indians for 13 years, winning 20 or more games seven different times, in compiling a 207-128 won-and-lost record. He began his career as a third baseman-outfielder and made his big league debut at third base. Lemon was in military service in 1943-44-45, then was Cleveland's opening day centerfielder in 1946. By that season's end, though, Bob had become a full-time pitcher.

Lemon hurled a no-hit 2-0 victory over Detroit, June 30, 1948; that season he topped the circuit in shutouts with 10 and led the loop in complete games with 20. In 1952 Lemon tossed 28 complete games to again lead the league. Lemon was named the Outstanding American League Pitcher by The Sporting News in 1948-50-54 and as a pitcher on The Sporting News Major League All-Star team those three seasons. Back in 1953 Lemon established a major league record for most double plays in one season by a pitcher (15).

When his playing career concluded at San Diego in 1958, Lemon served as a Cleveland scout in 1959, coached for the Indians in 1960 and the Phils in 1961. Lemon was an Angel scout in 1962-63, then managed Hawaii and Seattle of the Pacific Coast league in 1964-65-66. Bob coached at California in 1967-68, then managed in the Coast League in 1969, winning the playoffs. Lemon managed Kansas City in 1970-71-72, then scouted for that club in 1973. He scouted for Atlanta in 1975 and was pitching coach for the New York Yankees in 1976.

Following the 1977 season, United Press-International selected Lemon as the American League Manager of the Year.

DOBY, Lawrence Eugene

Age: 53; Born December 13, 1924, in Camden, S.C. Ht.: 6'1"; Wt.: 200 lbs. Batted left and threw righthanded. Married Helyn Curvy. Children: Chris, Leslie, Kim, Susan and Larry, Jr. Lives in Montclair, New Jersey.

When Larry Doby played in the American League from 1947 to 1959, he was one of the most feared sluggers in the game; today Larry is respected as one of game's best batting instructors and he is given credit for much of the improvement shown by the White Sox offense in 1977, in his first season as a White Sox coach.

It was Bill Veeck who first signed Doby to a big league contract. Doby had starred in the Negro National League and Veeck signed the power hitter with Cleveland in 1947, thus making Larry the first negro to play in the American League. Doby starred for Cleveland for nine seasons, enjoying some great moments, such as on Aug. 2, 1950, when he blasted three homers in one game, or, earlier that season (June 4) when he accomplished the rare feat of hitting for the cycle.

Doby, who concluded his big league playing career with the White Sox in 1959, hit 253 homers in the American League. In 1952 Doby led the league in slugging percentage with .541. Doby actually had two playing terms with the White Sox, first coming to Chicago Oct. 25, 1955, in a trade that sent Shortstop Chico Carrasquel and Outfielder Jim Busby to Cleveland.

Doby played in six consecutive All-Star games and in two World Series. He scouted for Montreal in 1969, was a minor league instructor for the Expos in 1970, then coached for them, 1971 thru 1973. Doby coached for Cleveland in 1974, then returned as a coach for Montreal in 1976.

KNOOP, Robert Frank

Age: 39; Born October 18, 1938 in Sioux City, Iowa. Ht.: 6'1"; Wt.: 185 lbs. Batted and threw righthanded. Married Darlene Huston. Children: Christie Lee. Lives in Yorba Linda, California.

A slick fielding second baseman in the American League for nine years, Bobby was a master as the pivot man on double plays. He established major league records for most double plays in a 9-inning game by a second baseman with six May 1, 1966. That same day Knoop also tied the big league mark for most double plays by a 2bman in a doubleheader (8). His rookie year in the majors (with Los Angeles in 1964) he tied the major league record for most games played in a rookie season (162).

Four different seasons Knoop led American League second basemen in double plays; he was named second baseman on The Sporting News American League All-Star fielding teams in 1966-67-68. The White Sox got Bobby in a trade with California May 14, 1969, for Infielder Sandy Alomar and Pitcher Bob Priddy and Knoop enjoyed his best season at the plate in the majors for Chicago as he walloped 20 home runs and batted .283.

Knoop joined the White Sox coaching staff in 1977. In 1975-76, Knoop served as a minor league manager in the Angels organization, finishing first in the Midwest league and second in the Texas League.

MINOSO, Saturnino Orestes Arrieta (Armas)

Age: 55; Born November 29, 1922 in Pefico, Matanzas, Cuba. Ht.: 5'11"; Wt.: 177 lbs. Batted and threw righthanded. Married Edelia Del Gado. Children: Orestes, Jr. Lives in Chicago, Illinois.

Orestes "Minnie" Minoso ranks as one of the most popular and best players in the 78-year-old history of the White Sox. His spectacular debut rates as an all-time White Sox highlight as this unheralded rookie smashed a tremendous home run off the Yankee's ace, Vic Raschi, in his first time to bat as a Chicago player. Nine years later, he duplicated that feat when he returned to Chicago after having been traded to Cleveland two years before, and hit, not one, but two homers on Opening Day to drive in 6 runs for a 10-9 Sox triumph.

It was Bill Veeck who first signed Minoso for the Cleveland organization back in 1948. The White Sox acquired "Minnie" in a 3-club trade engineered by Frank Lane in 1951 and the "Cuban Comet" played brilliantly for the Chisox for the next 7 years. The Sporting News named "Minnie" as American League Rookie of the Year in 1951 as he batted .326 and led the league in stolen bases (31) and triples (14). Three years later Minoso led the league in total bases with 304. He received the Golden Glove award as the outstanding major league left fielder in 1957 and as the best American League left fielder in 1959-60.

Minoso broke into pro ball in 1948 and played his last game in 1976. He came back to the White Sox for a third time in 1964 and made a final dramatic return again in 1976 when, at the age of 53, he lined a clean base hit to left, giving Veeck one of the greatest thrills of his colorful lifetime. Thus, Minoso became the oldest active player in big league history to collect a base hit.

"Minnie" played and managed in Mexico from 1967 to 1976, when he returned to Chicago as the club's first base coach. He is the only player to play in the majors the four decades of the '40's, '50's, '60's and '70's. During his exciting playing career, Minoso set a major league record by leading his league in times hit by pitcher (10). He was named on the American League All-Star team 7 different years.

WILLIAMS, Stanley Wilson

Age: 41; Born September 15, 1936 in Enfield, New Jersey. Ht.: 6'4"; Wt.: 225 lbs. Threw and batted righthanded. Married Elaine Milender. Children: Stanley Jr., and Shawn LaRae. Lives in Lakewood, California.

Williams is the White Sox pitching coach, he having taken over those duties with the 1977 White Sox. His long experience of 21 years as a pitcher in professional baseball gives Stan very impressive credentials for his job

Williams previously served as pitching coach for the Boston Red Sox in 1975-76 and even had a fling as a player-manager in the Bosox system in 1974. That marked his final season as a player and he made it a memorable one as on June 29, he pitched a 7-inning no-hit, 9-0 victory for Bristol over Quebec City.

Williams, Cont'd.

Williams prepped in the minors for six years before reaching the majors with the Dodgers in 1958 and he made a relief appearance against the White Sox in the 1959 World Series, tossing two hitless frames. After five productive years with Los Angeles, during which he won 57 games, Williams was traded to the Yankees for Bill Skowron Nov. 26, 1962. He spent the next three seasons with New York and Cleveland, then returned to the Pacific Coast League for three seasons.

In 1967 Williams returned to Cleveland, where he won 25 games in the next three years before being traded to Minnesota, along with Looie Tiant for Dean Chance, Bob Miller, Ted Uhlaender and Graig Nettles, Dec. 11, 1969. It was with the Twins in 1970 that Stan enjoyed the most spectacular season he had in the majors proving a brilliant fireman, working in 68 games, winning 10 and losing only one, with a remarkable ERA of 1.99. His last big league appearance was for the Red Sox in 1972.

SHERMAN LOLLAR

This book is respectfully dedicated to the late Sherman Lollar, outstanding Chicago White Sox catcher for a dozen years (1952-63), who passed away Sept. 24, 1977 at the age of 53.

Lollar played for 18 years in the American League, breaking in with Cleveland in 1946 and also catching for the Yankees and St. Louis Browns, before coming to Chicago. Following his long big league career, Lollar served as a major league coach and as a minor league manager.

When the White Sox won their last pennant, back in 1959, Lollar played a key role for the club, hitting 22 home runs and batting in 84 runs in 140 games. An accomplished receiver he received the Gold Glove award in 1957-58-59. Lollar tied a major league record accomplished by only two other players when he twice collected two hits in one inning. Lollar also held the highest lifetime fielding percentage for a catcher (.992) while handling over 8,000 chances.

PLAYERS

BANNISTER, Alan IF-OF No. 7

Born September 3, 1951, in Buena Park California. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Kathleen Edwards. Lives in Fullerton, California.

The year 1977 was Bannister's first as a regular in the majors and Alan made the most of it. The young Englishman replaced Bucky Dent as Chicago's regular shortstop and Alan batted a respectable .275 in 139 games, with 57 RBI's. Bannister scored 87 runs; second highest on the club, and his 154 hits tied Richie Zisk for third on the team. Bannister also notched 11 sacrifice flies to come within one of the all-time club record, held by White Sox coach "Minnie" Minoso.

Bannister was the first round draft choice of the California Angels when he was graduated from Buena Park High in 1969, but he chose not to sign, enrolling at Arizona State University instead. Philadelphia drafted Bannister No. 1 in 1973, after Alan had won All-America honors while establishing three National Collegiate Athletic Assn. records (most hits, runs batted in and total bases) in 70 games.

Bannister broke into pro ball with Eugene of the Pacific Coast League in 1973 and was called up by the Phillies for his big league debut in 1974, after hitting .289 in 94 games for Toledo of the International league that year. He got into 26 games for the Phils that season and 24 for Philadelphia in 1975. That was the sum total of Alan's major league experience when the White Sox acquired him when Bill Veeck acquired the club in December, 1975. Bannister was originally signed by Scout Merrill Combs of the Phillies. The thing he remembers most about his major league debut was that there were 55,000 fans in attendance!

Bannister enjoyed one 5-hit game last summer and twice he produced four safeties in a single contest. His longest consecutive game hitting streak was 10 contests.

BATTING, PITCHING CHAMPION QUALIFICATIONS

For batters 502 or more plate appearances; for pitchers 162 or more innings.

BARRIOS, Francisco Javier RHP No. 46

Born June 10, 1953, in Hermosillo, Mexico. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married. Lives in Hermosillo.

The sophomore year certainly was no jinx to Barrios, who followed up a mediocre 5-9 record in 1976 with a splendid 14-7 mark last summer for the best winning percentage (.667) among White Sox regular starting pitchers; Barrios tied for fourth among American League starters in this department.

On May 21st, Barrios had a 3-3 record; beginning May 28th Barrios suffered defeat in only one of his next 19 starts (July 16 to Boston) as he piled up nine victories. Barrios won six in a row from May 28 thru July 11th, dropped a 4-3 struggle to the Red Sox, then reeled off three more triumphs he finally dropped a tough 2-0 decision at California Sept. 8th.

Barrios started his pro baseball career in the Mexican Center League in 1971 and two years later was named Mexican League Rookie of the Year. On Dec. 4, 1973, White Sox Vice President Roland Hemond obtained Barrios in exchange for Infielder Rudy Hernandez. Barrios won 9 games while losing only 5 for Knoxville of the Southern League in 1974 and earned a late season promotion to the parent White Sox. In 1975 Barrios hurled for Jalisco of the Mexican League and Denver of the American Association, splitting 24 decisions.

The hard-throwing young Mexican will never forget his first big league victory; it came on his 23rd birthday, June 10, 1976, when he went the route at Milwaukee to trounce the Brewers, 12 to 5. Barrios enjoyed another rare accomplishment in his rookie season; on July 28th he combined with John "Blue Moon" Odom in a unique no-hit performance at Oakland. Barrios stopped Oakland without a hit the last four innings, walking two batters, to complete the no-hitter as Chicago won, 2-1.

BELL, Kevin Robert — IF — No. 8

Born July 13, 1955, in Los Angeles, California. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married to Bonnie Bongers. Lives in Covina, California.

When youthful Kevin Bell walloped 34 home runs and had 142 runs batted in for his first year and a half of professional ball, the White Sox figured they had something special. But Bell's progress suffered a serious setback June 27, 1977, when this highly promising infielder underwent surgery to repair torn ligaments in his left knee, following a home plate collision with Oakland's Manny Sanguillen June 20.

Thus, Bell's swift progress to major league stardom was slowed down; but, he is fully recovered now, following weeks of conditioning on the Nautilus machines in Florida.

Bell's father, Donald, was a shortstop in the Cleveland farm system 30 years ago when Bill Veeck owned that franchise. Kevin grew up in Covina, Calif., where he was a prep star athlete. He signed with the White Sox after one year of junior college and broke in at Appleton of the Midwest League. By 1976 Bell was already in Triple-A, batting .285 in 51 games for Iowa before being called up to the White Sox. He hit a .248 and slammed 5 home runs in 68 games in his Chicago debut.

In 1977 Bell started the season back with Iowa and was hitting .306 and leading the American Association in home runs, with 14, when he was recalled by Chicago June 11. In his first at-bat, he hit a home run off Baltimore's Rudy May. But, nine days later, Bell met Sanguillen at home plate and his season was over. Now, Kevin is back, eager to resume his path to stardom.

SAVE RULE

A relief pitcher shall be credited with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

1 — he is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club;

2 — he is not the winning pitcher; and

3 — he qualifies under one of the following conditions: (a) he enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches at least one inning, or (b) he enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck (that is, the potential tying run is already on base, or is one of the first two batsmen he faces), or (c) he pitched effectively for at least three innings.

BLOMBERG, Ronald Mark OF-1B No. 10

Born August 23, 1948, in Atlanta, Georgia. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats left and throws right. Married Mara Goldsmith. Lives in Chicago, Illinois.

Shoulder and knee injuries idled Blomberg the last two seasons but his power statistics were very impressive when he was able to play for the New York Yankees. A lifetime .302 big league hitter, Blomberg has walloped 47 homers and collected 202 RBI's in 400 games.

Blomberg has fully recovered from injuries that plagued the big slugger while he was a Yankee and he also benefitted from participating in the Nautilus program in Florida during the winter.

Blomberg was the Yankees' No. 1 selection in the 1967 free agent draft; he had just been graduated from Druid Hills High School in Atlanta and spurned some 300 college basketball scholarships to play baseball. Blomberg made his pro baseball debut that year and came up briefly with the Yankees in 1969, batting .500 in his first 4 games. After hitting .326 in 48 International League contests in 1971, the Yankees brought Blomberg up to stay; he was a first baseman, originally, then converted to an outfielder. Blomberg's best year with New York was in 1973, when he maintained a .400 batting average thru July 4th; he batted .329 that season in 100 games. The year before, Ron clouted 14 home runs in 107 games for the Yankees, his high for one season in the majors.

Scout Atley Donald of the Yankees, a former star major leaguer himself, signed Blomberg to his first contract. Entering the 1978 season, Ron's last appearance in a big league game was Sept. 8, 1976, against Milwaukee in Yankee Stadium.

ROOKIE QUALIFICATIONS

A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (a) exceeded 130 times at bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit.

BONDS, Bobby Lee OF No. 25

Born March 15, 1946, in Riverside, California. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Patricia Howard, Lives in San Carlos, California.

Bobby Bonds enjoyed one of his best years in baseball last season as he hit 37 home runs, drove in 115 runs, scored 103 times himself and stole 41 bases. The power-hitting speedster is a perennial threat to become the first major league player to hit 40 homers and steal 40 bases in one season.

Bonds is the only player in major league history to hit 30 or more home runs and steal 30 or more bases in the same season on four occasions. Willie Mays did it twice, Tommy Harper, Henry Aaron and Ken Williams once each.

One of the game's true super-stars, Bonds holds or shares several records. He holds the major league record for most home runs as a leadoff batter, season, 11 in 1973; and most home runs, first batter of game, 32, 1975. He tied the big league mark for most chances accepted by a right fielder, game, 10—May 28, 1976, and tied the American League record for most putouts, right fielder, 9—May 28, 1976.

Bobby hit a grand slam home run in his first major league game, June 25, 1968, becoming the first rookie to do so in the 20th century. Bonds was named by The Sporting News as the National League Player of the Year in 1973, and as an outfielder on the National League All-Star fielding teams, 1971, 1973 and 1974. He led the National League in total bases with 341 in 1973, the outfielders in double plays with 7 in 1970 and he has played in two All-Star games for the Senior Circuit and one for the American League.

Bonds has a big league career batting average of .271 for 10 seasons, with 265 home runs and 364 stolen bases. Six of those seasons Bonds scored 100 or more runs.

Bobby broke into pro ball in 1965, hitting a lusty .323 with 25 homers as a rookie in the Giants farm system at Lexington of the Western Carolina league. He became a big league regular at San Francisco in 1968 and starred for the club for seven seasons before being traded to the New York Yankees for Bobby Murcer Oct. 21, 1974. After slamming 32 homers for the Yankees he was traded Dec. 11, 1975 to California for Mickey Rivers and Ed Figueroa. A fractured bone in his right hand in spring training resulted in his playing only 99 games in 1976; otherwise, Bonds has never played in less than 145 games in each of his big league seasons.

*Acquired along with Outfielder Thaddis Bosley and Pitcher Dick Dotson from California Angels in exchange for Pitchers Chris Knapp and David Frost and Catcher Brian Downing on Dec. 5, 1977.

BOSLEY, Thaddis, Jr. OF No. 22

Born September 17, 1956, in Oceanside, California. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws left. Lives in Oceanside, California.

An exciting player with blazing speed, Bosley had been billed as California's centerfielder of the future until the trade last December that put the youthful Californian in a White Sox uniform.

An accomplished pianist, Bosley attended Mira Costa college in California, with emphasis on music appreciation. He broke into pro ball in 1974 and just two years later stole the astounding total of 90 bases for Salinas of the California League; naturally he led the league and was named California League Player of the Year.

After hitting .326 in 69 games for Salt Lake City of the Coast league last year, Bosley was promoted to the Angels; he made an exciting bow as his major league debut off 18-game winner Jim Colborn of Kansas City showed a triple, single and 3 RBI's in his first 3 at bats. An Anaheim crowd of 21,186 came to cheer Nolan Ryan and wound up giving the rookie outfielder two standing ovations. Bosley appeared in 58 games for the Angels, batting .297.

TWO SOX NUMBERS RETIRED

Two Chicago White Sox uniform numbers have been permanently retired; they are: Luke Appling, No. 4, and Nelson Fox, No. 2.

CARROLL, Clay Palmer RHP No. 34

Born May 2, 1941, in Clanton, Alabama. Height 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Judy Ethel Haynes. Lives in Bradenton, Florida.

This veteran bullpen star has been one of the premiere relief pitchers in the majors for the last decade. Although he broke into pro ball back in 1961 as a starting pitcher and even led the Pioneer League in complete games with 16 a year later, Carroll has excelled as a "fireman" in the majors.

Carroll has pitched for Milwaukee, Atlanta, Cincinnati and St. Louis in the National League and the White Sox in the American loop. While with the Reds in 1972, Carroll led the National League in saves with 37 and that season The Sporting News selected him as that league's Fireman of the Year. For 7 years Carroll was a key figure in Cincinnati's bullpen, averaging 61 games per season, while winning 64 games and losing only 36, plus notching numerous saves.

In addition to regular season play, Carroll has an outstanding record in post-season competition. He has pitched in eight games in four Championship Series, with an ERA of 1.50. Carroll also has been in three World Series, pitching in 14 games, with an earned run mark of 1.33.

Carroll is in his second tour of duty with the White Sox, who first acquired the husky reliever on Dec. 12, 1975, right after Bill Veeck purchased the club. The White Sox got Carroll from Cincinnati for Pitcher Rich Hinton and Catcher Jeff Sovern. Carroll started well for Chicago in 1976 but an injury sidelined him a good share of the season. Then on March 23, 1977, the White Sox traded Carroll to St. Louis for pitcher Lerrin LaGrow; now the White Sox have both of the fine relief specialists.

During his big league career, which began with the Milwaukee Braves back in 1964, Carroll has pitched in a total of 729 games, with an outstanding ERA of 2.94.

COLUCCIO, Robert Jasquali OF No. 5

Born October 2, 1951, in Centralia, Washington. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Terry Ellis. Lives in Olympia, Washington.

An American League regular with the Milwaukee Brewers in 1973-74, Coluccio is battling for a place on the White Sox big league roster. Coluccio has spent most of the last two seasons in the minors but, when called up by Chicago late last season, the speedy outfielder looked impressive as he hit .270 in 20 contests.

Coluccio played 111 games for Charleston of the International league in 1977, batting .249, with 11 home runs and 53 RBI's. He spent the entire 1976 campaign with Iowa.

Coluccio was a prep star athlete at Centralia, Wash., prior to breaking into pro ball with Billings in 1969. After he hit .300 for Evansville of the American Association in 1972, the Brewers called him up and he slammed 21 home runs while playing in 262 games for Milwaukee in 1973-74. The White Sox then acquired Coluccio from Milwaukee May 8, 1975, in exchange for Outfielder Bill Sharp.

Thirteen players in the American League collected 5 hits in a single game in 1977.... The Chicago White Sox claimed three of those players: Chet Lemon Vs. Cleveland May 8, Alan Bannister Vs. Texas June 9, and Jack Brohamer Vs. Seattle September 24.

CRUZ, Henry OF No. 38

Born February 27, 1952, in St. Croix, Virgin Islands. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws left. Married Zulema Ivette. Lives in Fajardo, Puerto Rico.

After seven years of grooming in the Los Angeles Dodgers organization, Henry Cruz was acquired by the White Sox, who feel that the talented 26-year-old outfielder has a good chance of making the Chicago club.

Cruz is from the Virgin Islands, where he was an outstanding athlete in baseball, basketball and track; he was Fajardo High's Most Valuable baseball star and cager and he also set school records in the 100 and 200 meters and the long jump. After 2-1/2 impressive seasons in the Pacific Coast League, Cruz was called up by the Dodgers in 1975 and he hit .266 in 53 games as a big league rookie.

Cruz also got in 49 games for the Dodgers in 1976 and his hits included his first 4 big league homers. In 1977, Cruz blistered Pacific Coast league pitching with a .353 mark, collecting 18 homers, a dozen triples and 24 doubles, plus 88 RBI's, causing the White Sox to acquire Henry in early September. He gave quick evidence of his potential by batting .286 in 16 games and one of the two home runs he rapped marked the 81st hit in Comiskey Park last summer, breaking the former club record.

Before signing with the Dodgers in August, 1970, Cruz starred in baseball and track at Inter-Americana University in Puerto Rico; there he was captain and led his nine in hitting and set a broad jump mark of 22 feet, 11 inches.

SCORING RULE ON PINCH-HITTERS

A player shall be considered a pinch-hitter only if he enters the game as a substitute batter and then only on his first time at bat which must be before he becomes a fielder. If the team bats around and a pinch hitter comes up a second time in the inning in which he first appeared he will not be considered a pinch hitter during that second time up.

A substitute hitter for a Designated Hitter is both a pinch hitter and a designated hitter on his first time at bat. On subsequent trips to the plate he is a Designated Hitter only.

ESSIAN, James, Sarkis, Jr. C No. 11

Born January 2, 1951, in Detroit, Michigan. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 187 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married. Lives in St. Clair Shore, Michigan.

Always considered a fine defensive receiver, Jim Essian proved himself to also be a dependable clutch hitter in 1977 when he batted .273 in 114 games for the White Sox. He drove in 54 runs and rapped out 10 homers, four of them coming in successive games to tie a club record.

Essian was one of 13 children of an Armenian house painter in Detroit. Jim was a great high school athlete in Detroit, which earned him a football scholarship at Michigan; but, instead, Essian signed a baseball contract with the Phillies. Jim went off to the Phillies farm system, where his batting averages included figures of .303, .294, .292 and .282. Then, on May 15, 1975, Essian came to the White Sox from Atlanta. The Braves had acquired Essian earlier from the Phillies in the Dick Allen transaction.

Essian had made All-Star teams in three different minor leagues on his way to the majors: Western Carolinas in 1970, Carolina in 1971 and Eastern League in 1973. During his five seasons in the Phillies farm system, Essian had three brief trials with the parent club.

Essian's timely hitting and great defensive play were important factors in the comeback of the White Sox in 1977. Twice during the '77 campaign Essian reeled off neat consecutive game hitting streaks—once for 14 games, another a 10-game string.

FLANNERY, John Michael IF No. 1

Born January 25, 1957, in Long Beach, California. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws right. Single. Lives in Lakewood, California.

Flannery starred at shortstop for three years at Lakewood (California) High School and also with the Lakewood American Legion and Long Beach Connie Mack teams to attract the attention of Angel scouts Walter Shannon and Al Kubski, who signed the lanky youngster. Even though an American league club signed John, his favorite player was Don Kessinger, then of the Cubs but now a teammate of his with the White Sox. One of his closest friends in baseball has also become a teammate—Thad Bosley.

Flannery made his pro debut in 1976 with Davenport of the Midwest League, playing a full schedule of 121 games as a rookie. Flannery started the '77 campaign with the Angels' farm club at Salinas and showed vast improvement at the plate, hitting .287 in 56 games before the White Sox acquired him for their Iowa club in a trade. Flannery made the big jump to Triple-A without difficulty as he hit .249 for the Oaks in 73 games.

FOLEY, Marvis Edwin C No. 42

Born August 29, 1953, in Stanford, Kentucky. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Single. Lives in Lexington, Kentucky.

Foley played for three White Sox farm clubs during the 1977 season; he led the Knoxville club of the Southern League (AA) in batting with a mark of .306 and 41 RBI's in 62 games. Foley also hit .272 in 48 contests for Appleton of the Midwest League and finally appeared in 10 games for Iowa.

A graduate of Henry Clay High School, Lexington, Ky., Foley went to the University of Kentucky, where he was named on the All Southeastern conference baseball team in 1974 and again in 1975.

White Sox scouts Bennie Huffman and Walt Widmayer signed Foley to a contract June 14, 1975, with Appleton; the catcher-first baseman proved right off that he could hit as he batted .308 for the Foxes and .293 at Knoxville that rookie year.

GARR, Ralph Allen OF No. 48

Born December 12, 1945, in Monroe, Louisiana. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 197 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married Ruby Mack. Lives in Houston, Texas.

Garr has been a regular in the majors for seven years and he has hit .300 or better in five of those seasons, giving the speedy outfielder a lifetime big league average of well above the coveted .300 mark.

The White Sox obtained Garr from Atlanta after the 1975 season and the "Road Runner" has hit .300 in each of his two campaigns for Bill Veeck's club. While Garr's 1977 bat mark was the same as he hit for the Pale Hose in 1976, he actually demonstrated considerable improvement in almost every offensive category, as he was Chicago's official batting champion for the second straight season. Although Ralph played in two less games in 1977 than in 1976, he batted in 18 more runs, scored 15 more himself, collected five more hits, seven more doubles, one more triple, six more home runs, got ten more walks, had 32 more total bases and improved his slugging percentage from .387 in 1976 to .435 in 1977.

Garr enjoyed a phenomenal college and minor league career. He led the NAIA with a .568 average as a Grambling college second baseman in 1967. After becoming the Atlanta Braves third choice in the June, 1967, Free Agent draft Garr played in the Texas and International Leagues, where he was both the batting and stolen base champion in 1969 and 1970. After hitting a lofty .386 in the International League in 1971, Garr became an Atlanta regular in 1971, hitting .343 with 219 hits in 154 contests.

In 1974 Garr led the National League in batting with .353, in hits with 214 and in triples, with 17. He made the National League All-Star team that year. In 1975 Garr tied a National League record by leading that league in triples two straight years. He set an Atlanta club record for stolen bases with 35 in 1973.

Garr comes from a large family; he has three brothers and one sister who are older than he is, plus three younger brothers. He was signed by Scout Mel Didier and credits Paul Richards with being most helpful in his baseball career.

HUGHES, James Michael RHP No. 26

Born July 2, 1951, in Los Angeles, California. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married. Lives in Long Beach, California.

In 1975 Hughes was the winningest rookie in the majors as he won 16 games for the Minnesota Twins to be named the "Most Valuable" in the Twins pitching staff by the Minnesota writers. Hughes had a phenomenal month of May, 1975, when he won 6 games that month, the last 5 complete games.

Hughes attended West Los Angeles Jr. college and broke into pro ball in 1969 with the Sarasota Twins of the Gulf Coast League; he worked his way up thru the Twin farm clubs at Orlando, St. Cloud, Wisconsin Rapids, Lynchburg and Tacoma. While pitching in the Carolina league in 1972, Hughes pitched a 7-inning perfect game against Rocky Mount (July 30). That year Hughes led that circuit in shutouts, with 5, and he tied for the lead in games started, with 28. A foot injury slowed Hughes down in 1976 but he still managed nine victories for the Twins.

Hughes hurled only 4 innings for Minnesota in 1977, spending most of the year with Tacoma of the triple-A Pacific Coast League, where he registered nine triumphs.

JOHNSON, Clair Bart RHP No. 24

Born January 3, 1950, in Torrance, California. Height: 6 ft., 5 in. Weight: 225 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married. Lives in Torrance, California.

Bart Johnson has enjoyed two outstanding seasons for the White Sox since that September date back in 1969 when as a 19-year-old rookie he first made his debut on the hill for Chicago.

In 1971, his blazing fast ball made the tall righthander one of the most effective hurlers in the American League as he won 12 games, saved 14 others, fanned 153 batters in 178 innings and compiled an excellent ERA of 2.93. Handicapped by injuries, Johnson only hurled 14 innings for Chicago in 1972 and didn't regain his form until the last half of the 1974 season; he was brought up from Triple-A Iowa July 5th and won 10 games while losing only 4, with an ERA of 2.74 to become one of the league's most effective hurlers. But then the injury jinx struck again and Johnson missed the entire 1975 season with a back ailment. The big fellow came back in 1976 to win nine games (three of them shutouts) despite hurling for a last place club. Last year Johnson was used by Manager Bob Lemon primarily as a long reliefer and he had a 4-5 record in 29 appearances with two saves.

Back in 1969 Johnson was the strikeout king of the Midwest League as he fanned 200 batters in 170 innings while winning 16 games and losing only 4 for Appleton. Johnson was one of the finest prep athletes in southern California history in both baseball and basketball.

JOHNSON, Lamar 1B No. 23

Born September 2, 1950, in Bessemer, Alabama. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 225 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married. Lives in Lisle, Illinois.

Although Lamar Johnson batted .302 last year, he fell short of the necessary 502 plate appearances to qualify for the official club batting crown; Johnson did play in 118 games and his slugging percentage of .505 was right behind Richie Zisk's .514 and third highest on the club.

Johnson is the heir apparent to the first base job on the White Sox this year and his credentials are most impressive; he served his apprenticeship well as he walloped 109 home runs during his minor league career that began in Sarasota back in 1968.

Johnson led the Midwest League in RBI's with 97 in 1971 and again the next year with 89; he topped that circuit in total bases with 227 in 1972 and the American Association with 262 in 1975. Johnson paced the Midwest league in homers with 26 in 1972 and he slammed 20 in each of the 1974 and 1975 seasons in the American Assn. He had 93 RBI's in 1973, 96 in 1974 and 101 in 1975. In that year Johnson was picked on Topps Triple-A All-Star team and he was Player of the Month for August. Johnson also batted .336 that year to win the batting crown.

Johnson received his major league baptism in 1974 when he hit .345 in 10 games for the Sox. In 1976 Johnson batted .320 in 82 games for Chicago.

A highlight of his career came last summer when he sang the Star Spangled Banner prior to a White Sox game, then went out and hit two homers and a double for a 2 to 1 victory over Oakland; it was truly a one-man show as these were the only hits the Sox made in that game! Johnson had an outstanding month at the plate in June, 1977, when he batted .363, with 6 home runs, a triple, 3 doubles and 17 RBI's. Lamar had four "game-winning" hits that month.

Johnson attended Wenonah High School in Birmingham, Alabama, where he doubled as a catcher in baseball and defensive end in football. He received football offers from colleges such as Grambling and Wichita State but his choice was baseball.

KESSINGER, Donald Eulon IF No. 30

Born July 17, 1942, in Forrest City, Arkansas. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Switch-hitter, throws right. Married to Carolyn Lives. Lives in Memphis, Tennessee.

Kessinger was a star infielder for the Cubs and Cardinals in the National League 12-1/2 seasons before coming to the White Sox last summer. A Cub regular for 11 years, Don was traded to St. Louis Oct. 28, 1975 for Pitcher Mike Garman and Infielder Bob Hrapmann.

A two-time "Gold Glove" winner, Kessinger was the putout and double play leader among the National League shortstops in 1973. In 1969 Don led the National League shortstops in every defensive department and he set a loop record by playing 54 consecutive errorless games. Kessinger was named to The Sporting News and AP All-Star teams that year.

Kessinger broke into pro ball in 1964, after a fine collegiate career at the U. of Mississippi, where he was All-Conference in both baseball and basketball. He provides Manager Bob Lemon with great depth as a switch-hitter with ability to play second, third and short.

Kessinger's best major league batting average is .274 in both the 1966 and 1972 seasons. Kessinger is the first winner of the Danny Thompson Memorial award for "exemplary Christian spirit in baseball." Don received the award from Commissioner Bowie Kuhn at the 1977 World Series.

During his long career, Kessinger led National League shortstops in double plays four different seasons. He also made six hits in one game, June 17, 1971. Don was shortstop on The Sporting News National League All-Star team in 1968-69-70 and the All-Star fielding team in 1969-70.

KIRKWOOD, Donald Paul RHP No. 33

Born September 24, 1949, in Pontiac, Michigan. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 192 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Connie Sue Keith. Lives in Clawson, Michigan.

Originally signed by the California Angels, Kirkwood made his big league debut in Comiskey Park pitching in relief against the White Sox. Now, Don is a member of the White Sox mound staff.

Kirkwood was the workhorse of the Angels' bullpen in 1975, registering seven saves while also scoring six victories as he worked in 44 contests. The following season California utilized Kirkwood as a starter but he was not as effective as he had been working out of the bullpen.

After Kirkwood made 13 relief appearances for California in 1977, the lanky righthander was traded to Chicago. Kirkwood then toiled in relief in 16 contests for the White Sox last summer.

Kirkwood, Cont'd.

A graduate of Berkley High (Mich.) in 1968, Kirkwood attended Oakland Community college and Oakland University (Mich.), where he starred in both baseball and basketball. In 1974 Kirkwood set a Mexican League record by completing 16 out of 17 starts. Kirkwood's first major league complete game victory was on May 16, 1975, against Minnesota.

KRAVEC, Kenneth Peter LHP No. 27
Born July 29, 1951, in Cleveland, Ohio. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws left. Single. Lives in Glenview, Illinois.

Ken Kravec earned a regular starting position on the Chicago White Sox mound staff when he racked up 11 victories against eight defeats after being called up from the triple-A Iowa club of the American Association at the end of May last season.

A product of the White Sox farm system, the 26-year-old Kravec fanned 125 batters while walking 57 in 167 innings for the White Sox. He fanned 11 A's in whitewashing Oakland, 2-0, on June 18th and whiffed 10 Angels on September 8th for his high strikeout totals of the year.

Kravec has always possessed an excellent strikeout ball—he fanned well over 100 batters for Knoxville of the Southern League in both the 1974 and 1975 seasons. In the latter year, Ken tied for the Southern League lead in victories with 14 and he was picked on the Topps Class "AA" All-Star team. Although Kravec spent the first 7 weeks of last season at Iowa he led the White Sox mound staff in strikeouts with 125.

Kravec is a graduate of Midpark High, Middleburg Heights, Ohio, in 1969 and Ashland (Ohio) college in 1973.

KUCEK, John Andrew RHP No. 55

Born June 8, 1953, in Warren, Ohio. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws right. Single. Lives in Glenview, Illinois.

A former Miami University of Ohio mound star, Jack Kucek has a bright future ahead in the big leagues. He pitched 3 years at Miami, making the all-Mid-American conference team his last two seasons. He also hurled a no-hitter in the 1974 college District 4 NCAA Playoffs. The 24-year-old Ohio native was an all-state prep baseball player.

Kucek was the second round draft choice of the White Sox in June, 1974. He broke into pro ball at Appleton that year, winning 5, losing only 2, with a splendid ERA of 1.76. The White Sox brought Kucek up late that summer and he gained his first Major League victory on Sept. 3, 1974, getting credit for a 2-1 decision at Kansas City.

In 1975 Kucek was outstanding at Knoxville of the AA Southern League, with a 10-4 record and a 2.76 ERA. Kucek spent the last two seasons primarily with the triple-A Iowa club of the American Association. The White Sox brought him up last summer; he started against Toronto July 13 and hurled splendidly for 10-2/3 innings before dropping a 5-3 decision. After 8 appearances, Kucek suffered a dislocated left shoulder on August 23 and was sidelined the remainder of the season.

LAGROW, Lerrin Harris RHP No. 36

Born July 8, 1948, in Phoenix, Arizona. Height: 6 ft., 5 in. Weight: 230 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Sherry Lynn Wilkerson. Lives in Scottsdale, Arizona.

The White Sox "Fireman of the Year" in 1977, Lerrin LaGrow saved 25 games and added another 7 victories to play a vital role in the success of the Chicagoans last summer.

When Bill Veeck acquired the big right-hander last spring, a hue and cry went up, questioning Bill's judgement. But, LaGrow made the critics eat their words as he did an outstanding job in the bullpen for Manager Bob Lemon. He made 66 relief appearances and his superb earned run average of 2.46 was easily the best on the White Sox staff.

LaGrow had led Arizona State University to the NCAA baseball title in 1969, then signed with Detroit after his junior year. He had been the sixth round choice of the Tigers in the June, 1969 Free Agent draft. After pitching two seasons for Montgomery, he made his American League debut with Detroit in 1970, after having been named as the Southern League Player of the Year.

LaGrow was originally a starter for Detroit, then was traded by the Bengals to St. Louis April 2, 1976. LaGrow spent most of 1976 with the Cards' farm club at Tulsa in the American Association, then was used in the bullpen by St. Louis.

LaGrow turned in such an effective "fireman" job for the White Sox in 1977 that he finished third, back of Boston's Bill Campbell and New York's Sparky Lyle, for the American League's Rolaids Relief award.

LEMON, Chester Earl OF No. 44

Born February 12, 1955, in Jackson, Mississippi. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married. Lives in Wheaton, Illinois.

To say that young Chet Lemon came into his own as a major league star in 1977 would be an understatement. The Los Angeles native demonstrated dramatically that he can run, throw, field, and hit for both average and power. Under Coach Larry Doby's expert instruction, Lemon emerged as a potent offensive threat and a defensive star last summer.

As a matter of fact the then 22-year-old youngster established two American League fielding records he covered so much ground. Chet set new league marks for most chances accepted by an outfielder (524) and also for most putouts by an outfielder in one season (512). He thus broke league marks held by Dom DiMaggio since 1948.

But Lemon did much more than that; all season long Chet was one of the big guns in the most explosive batting attack in White Sox history; he batted .273 in 150 games and his hits included an imposing extra base log of 38 doubles, 4 triples and 19 home runs. He also tallied 99 runs, most by any White Sox player in the last two decades. Lemon's 38 two-baggers were the most by any Chisox player since 1962, when Floyd Robinson set a club record with 45. He tied for third for most assists by American League outfielders.

Lemon played an important role in all of the excitement generated at Comiskey Park last summer. His two home runs against the champion Royals July 31 turned almost certain defeat into a thrilling victory. On May 8th Lemon enjoyed his first 5-for-5 game in the majors, with Cleveland the victim. In late July and early August, when the White Sox clung to first place, Lemon's big bat was one of the primary reasons as he reeled off a 14 game hitting streak that included five home runs and 11 RBI's. Back on May 4th, at Kansas City, Lemon dunked a home run into the waterfall in left center, some 450 feet away; until then, no man had ever dunked a ball there. The mammoth wallop came with one on and helped provide Chicago with a 6-3 victory.

Whenever the respective merits of trades are analyzed, White Sox fans will always look fondly on that memorable June deadline date in 1975, when Oakland shipped a promising youngster named Chet Lemon to Chicago.

MOLINARO, Robert Joseph OF No. 53
Born May 21, 1950, in Newark, New Jersey. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Single. Lives in West Orange, New Jersey.

Bob Molinaro comes to the White Sox with a wealth of minor league experience. He brings with him a decade of apprenticeship in the Detroit Tiger minor league system.

Molinaro broke into pro ball in 1968 with the Sarasota Tigers, hitting .324 in 55 contests. His other minor league stops include three with Montgomery, three at Evansville and two for Toledo. His impressive record at Evansville in 1977 attracted White Sox attention as he hit .303 in 125 games with 17 home runs, 91 runs batted in and 23 stolen bases.

During his days in the Tiger system, Molinaro was up briefly with Detroit in 1975, batting .263 in 6 games. That year Molinaro had been one of the sparkplugs on the Evansville Junior World Series title club.

Molinaro, Cont'd.

Molinaro had been signed by the Tigers as their second selection in the June, 1968 Free Agent draft. He'll never forget his first major league hit—it was a triple off Boston's Luis Tiant!

MOORE, Alvin Earl "Junior" IF-OF No. 17
Born January 25, 1953, at Waskom, Texas. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws right. Single. Lives in Richmond, California.

Al "Junior" Moore was the regular third baseman for the Atlanta Braves most of last season. A native of Waskom, Texas, Moore has been in professional baseball since 1971, when he signed with the Braves following his graduation from John Kennedy High School, Richmond, Calif.

In 1976, Moore demonstrated his value as a hitter as he finished third in the International League with a .329 batting average and he drove in 72 runs in just 103 games for Richmond that year. He began 1976 as an outfielder but showed his versatility by moving to third base. The year before—1975—Moore had been named the International League All-Star second baseman. In four of his six seasons in the Braves farm system, Moore hit .300 or better. Being selected on All-Star teams is commonplace for Moore; in the Appalachian League in 1971 and the Western Carolinas League in 1972 he was an All-Star third baseman.

Moore won his freedom from the Braves as the result of an arbitrator's decision and thus was available to the White Sox on last November's re-entry draft list.

NAHORODNY, William Gerald C No. 15

Born August 31, 1953, in Hamtramck, Michigan. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Claudia Dowden. Lives in Clearwater, Florida.

Bill Nahorodny has exhibited impressive power in his six seasons in the minors as he has collected 96 home runs; his peak season was for Oklahoma City in 1976, when he blasted 23 home runs in 114 contests while hitting .292. Last summer he belted 16 more for the same club.

Nahorodny was the Phillies' No. 6 selection in the June, 1972 Free Agent draft. A Michigan native, Bill starred in baseball and basketball for Hamtramck High School, being captain and all-conference in both sports. He played baseball for St. Clair Community college (Mich.) for one season.

After being signed by Phillies scout Tony Lucadello, Nahorodny broke into pro ball with Auburn in 1972. He got his major league baptism with the Phillies in 1976, got in 3 games and his first big league hit was a double off the wall in St. Louis.

According to former big league mound ace Jim Bunning, who managed Nahorodny at Oklahoma City, "Bill is a major league hitting prospect with power."

NORDHAGEN, Wayne Oren OF No. 20

Born July 4, 1948, in Thief River Falls, Minnesota. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Carrie Lee Millar. Lives in Valencia, California.

Wayne Nordhagen played a vital role for Manager Bob Lemon's White Sox in 1977; he was a utility outfielder who was always ready when called upon. Possessing one of the stronger throwing arms in the American League, he was valuable on defense; more than that, though, he also contributed to the attack as he batted a neat .315 in 124 plate appearances.

Nordhagen enjoyed two particularly memorable games for Chicago last season. On May 28th, in only his second starting role of the season, Nordhagen collected 4 hits in 5 at bats against the World champion Yankees. Then there was that big night in Baltimore August 25th. Nordhagen not only walloped his first big league home run; he also added another to bat in 4 runs and give Chicago a much needed 6-4 victory to keep the White Sox just three games back of pace-setting Kansas City.

Nordhagen spent nine seasons in the minors with four different organizations before the White Sox finally gave him his chance in the majors. Originally, he was signed by the Yankees. He was a prep and college athlete in Oregon prior to breaking into pro ball in 1968.

ORTA, Jorge IF No. 6

Born November 26, 1950, in Mazatlan, Mexico. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in Torreon, Mexico.

Vice President Roland Hemond's friendship with Mexican League officials Jesus Carmona and Dr. Alvaro Lebrija resulted in the White Sox signing Jorge Orta, one of the finest young hitters to come into the league in the 1970's; this event took place in 1971, when Hemond flushed Orta out of the Mexican baseball bushes.

The raw rookie, Orta, started the 1972 season as shortstop for the Sox but eventually he went to Knoxville for further seasoning. Then Orta rejoined the White Sox as a regular in 1973 and the quiet, smooth-swinging Mexican has never played in less than 128 games a season ever since.

Orta improved so rapidly that in 1974 his quick swing enabled him to bat .316 in 139 games, second best average in the American League, second only to the great Rod Carew, that year. Orta again led the White Sox in batting in 1975, with a .304 mark as he knocked in 83 runs to also pace the Chisox in that vital department. In 1976, although he was shifted from 3B to the outfield to second base, Orta still topped the team in RBI's. Last summer, back at his familiar keystone post, Orta finished second on the potent hitting Sox club with 84 runs batted in.

A highlight of Orta's career was in 1974 when he collected 5 hits in a single game three different times (against K.C. April 21, Minnesota June 30 and N.Y. Aug. 16). The American League named Orta Player of the Week for July 12-19, 1976, as he ran a consecutive game hitting streak to 17 contests and batted .556 for that week. Also, in 1976, Orta was named to Mexico's Base-

PRYOR, Gregory Russell IF No. 16
Born October 2, 1949, in Marietta, Ohio. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws right. Single. Lives in Orlanda, Florida.

Greg Pryor will always remember his first big league hit; it was in his very first time to bat in the majors and he slammed a run-scoring single off the Tigers' Jim Crawford late in the 1976 season.

A graduate from Florida Southern university, Pryor broke into pro baseball in 1971 with Geneva, N.Y. Pryor finally worked his way up to triple-A in 1975, when he batted .243 in the Pacific Coast loop; Pryor improved that mark by 32 points in the same circuit in 1976, causing the Texas Rangers to take a look at him late that year.

Pryor played at Syracuse in the International League all last season, batting .271 in 124 contests. Pryor's best season so far at the plate was in 1973, when he hit .293 for Rocky Mount; Greg won the Topps Player of the Month award for July that season in the Carolina League.

RENKO Steven, Jr. RHP No. 18

Born December 10, 1944, in Kansas City, Kansas. Height: 6 ft., 6 in. Weight: 226 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Sandra Sue Lorton. Lives in Overland Park, Kansas.

When the White Sox looked for mound assistance last August, Bill Veeck turned to the National League and acquired a veteran righthander—Steve Renko. The tall righthander was almost perfect as he compiled a 5-0 won-and-lost record for the White Sox in eight starts.

Renko was a highly sought three-sport athlete at Wyandotte High School, Kansas City, before going on to Kansas U., Lawrence. He quarterbacked a Kansas team that included the Bears' famed Gale Sayers. Scout Hershel Martin signed Renko for the Mets in 1965. Originally a first baseman, Renko converted to pitching in 1967. On July 21, 1968, Renko pitched Memphis to a 1-0 7-inning no-hit victory over Albuquerque in a Texas League (AA) contest.

Renko was the winningest pitcher in Montreal's eight year history with 68 triumphs. The Expos had acquired Renko from the Mets June 15, 1969, along with pitchers Jay Carden and Dave Colon and Infielder Kevin Collins for the contract of first baseman Donn Clendenon. Renko won 15 games for Montreal in 1971 but his best season was in 1973 when he posted a 15-11 record, with a fine 2.81 ERA.

The Cubs got Renko, along with Larry Biittner, from Montreal for Andy Thornton May 17, 1976. After posting an 8-11 record for the Cubs in 1976, Renko was 2-2 prior to being traded to the White Sox last August. Renko had been on the Cubs' disabled list from April 28 until June 21, due to an operation to remove a nodule from the thyroid gland.

Renko has pitched 3 one-hitters in the National League (June 9 and July 9, 1971 and June 25, 1974).

FIGURING BATTING AVERAGES AND ERA

To determine a batting average, divide the number of hits by the number of times at bat.

To determine earned run average (ERA), multiply the number of earned runs by nine and divide result by number of innings pitched.

SANDERS, Reginald Jerome 1B No. 35

Born September 9, 1949, in Birmingham, Alabama. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Maria Dianne Reid. Lives in Detroit, Michigan.

Sanders is one of those players who accomplished the rare feat of slamming a home run in his first major league at bat, September 1, 1974, for Detroit. A power hitter who also has played the outfield, Sanders was Oakland's second selection in the January, 1968, Free Agent draft. He was an all-star selection and runner up in the home run derby his first two minor league seasons. On May 9, 1972 Sanders was traded to Detroit for Pitcher Mike Kilkenny and cash. That year he hit .332 in the Southern League and had an inside-the-park home run in the All-Star game. The Tigers traded Sanders to Atlanta for First baseman Jack Pierce March 29, 1975.

Sanders was an all-league football and baseball star at Venice (Calif.) High School. Last summer he batted in 119 runs and walloped 28 homers while batting .320 for Durango, Mexico.

SCHUELER, Ronald Richard RHP No. 37

Born April 18, 1948, in Hays, Kansas. Height: 6 ft., 4 in. Weight: 204 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Maureen Fallon. Lives in Blackwood, New Jersey.

Schueler gives Manager Bob Lemon another experienced major league pitcher for his mound staff. A 5-year veteran of the National League, Schueler was acquired by Minnesota from the Phillies in March, 1977. With the Twins last season he was used as both a starting pitcher and in the bullpen; he won 8 games, saved another 3, while making 7 starts and relieving 45 times.

Schueler was originally drafted by the Pirates in 1966 but didn't sign; then, he was drafted by the Atlanta Braves in January, 1967 and had a 9-9 record at Kinston that rookie season. He was used primarily as a starting pitcher through most of his minor and big league career.

The Phillies acquired Schueler Dec. 3 1973 from Atlanta for Barry Lersch and Craig Robinson. Schueler worked 203 innings for the Phils in 1974, winning 11 games, as he made 27 starts. Schueler went to the bullpen the next two seasons for the Phils, working in 81 games, all but six in relief.

Schueler is a graduate of Hays (KS) High School (1966) and he attended Ft. Hays State college. His versatility of being able to start and pitch in relief, both long and short, could make Ron a valuable addition to the White Sox mound corps.

SODERHOLM, Eric Thane 3B No. 12
Born September 24, 1948, in Cortland, New York. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Ginny Mikell. Lives in Burnsville, Minnesota.

Eric Soderholm enjoyed his finest season ever in 1977 and it was climaxed when he was selected as the American League Comeback Player of the Year. It was an honor he justly deserved as he didn't even play baseball in 1976, due to a severe knee injury. That injury, after two promising campaigns with Minnesota in 1974 and 1975, required two operations and Eric's career appeared ended.

But, the White Sox took a chance on him and it certainly paid off. Soderholm pounded out 25 home runs, knocked in 67 tallies and batted a solid .280 in 130 games for Chicago in 1977. In addition, he led all American League third basemen in fielding with a .978 average as he committed only 8 errors, and only one boot in the whole last half of the season. His big bat, gilt-edged fielding at the "Hot corner" and enthusiasm played a vital role in the White Sox success last season.

As a prep player in Florida, Soderholm was a shortstop; the Twins signed him in 1968 and he worked his way up thru their farm system. Soderholm was with Minnesota for all or part of five seasons (1971-75) and in 407 games he hit .257 for the Twins. In 1975, Soderholm set an all-time Minnesota record for fielding at third base, with a .969 mark.

With the Sox last year, Soderholm homered in all but three of the 14 American League parks and he slammed 9 homers in Comiskey Park. Soderholm had two 4-hit games and five 3-hit games during 1977 and enjoyed a 12-game hitting streak July 8-25. Defensively, Soderholm made only one error from June 4th until the end of the season—that being Aug. 20 at Milwaukee. During that stretch, Soderholm committed just one error in his last 226 chances.

Eric has a younger brother, Dale, who is a shortstop in the Twins farm system. He is 6-3 in height and played at Orlando last year.

SQUIRES, Michael 1B No. 19

Born March 5, 1952, in Kalamazoo, Michigan. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws left. Married Maureen Ann Mentor. Lives in Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Squires earned the nickname of "Human Vacuum Cleaner" for his excellent fielding at first base for Knoxville of the Southern League in 1974-75. Mike set a new Southern League fielding mark in 1974 with a .996 average and he also established another new mark by playing 76 consecutive games without an error and for fewest errors (5) in a season. He was voted the Topps Player of the Month award for June, 1975.

Squires was a high school standout at Kalamazoo Central and played two collegiate seasons at Kalamazoo Valley before transferring to Western Michigan for his final two college campaigns. Recommended by George Sobek and Pete Milito, Squires signed a pro contract with Sarasota June 8, 1973. He made the Southern League All-Star team two straight seasons while performing for Knoxville.

With Iowa of the American Association last season, Squires enjoyed his best year at the plate as he batted .323 in 126 games and he tied his season career high of 24 stolen bases, which he first set with Knoxville in 1975.

STILLMAN, Royle Eldon OF No. 3

Born February 2, 1951, in Santa Monica, Calif. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws left. Single. Lives in Westminster, California.

Stillman is another of the players on the 1978 White Sox roster who spent a long apprenticeship in the minors; he spent eight seasons in the minors, compiling a fine .308 career average and was considered an excellent hitting prospect in the Orioles farm system.

After starring in baseball and football at North Torrance High, he attended El Camino college for two years, then signed with the Los Angeles Dodgers. He broke in with a bang, hitting .330 for Ogden in 1969 and .342 for Bakersfield in 1970, but was traded along with Doyle Alexander to Baltimore in exchange for Frank Robinson and Pete Rickert. He slammed 23 home runs in the Southern League in 1972, then batted .354 in 94 games in the International League in 1973. Stillman was named on several league All-Star teams, including the Pioneer League (1969), the California League (1970), Southern League (1972) and International League (1975).

Stillman filled a valuable utility role for the White Sox last season, being used in the designated hitter role in 13 games, as an outfielder in 26 contests, as a pinch-hitter or pinch runner 16 times and he even played one game at first base.

STONE, Steven Michael RHP No. 32

Born July 14, 1947, in Cleveland, Ohio. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws right. Single. Lives in Chicago, Illinois.

A resolute Steve Stone pulled off one of the better "comebacks of the Year" in 1977. Handicapped by a shoulder injury in 1976, Stone won only 3 games while losing 6 for the cross-town Cubs. But, returning for his second tour of duty with the White Sox in 1977, the little righthander rebounded with 15 victories against 12 defeats to rank as the Chisox' top winner last summer.

Stone was a model of consistency on the Sox staff; he permitted 3 or less runs in each of his first 10 starts as he tossed 6 complete games. Stone was undefeated during the entire month of May, winning 5 games. He made 6 starts that month and the Sox won all 6 games. Three of his five straight victories were complete games and he pitched into the 8th inning in the other two triumphs.

The San Francisco Giants signed Stone to his first pro contract and he won 12 games in his rookie season for Fresno in 1969. Stone hurled for the Giants in 1971-72, then the White Sox acquired him, along with Outfielder Ken Henderson, in exchange for Pitcher Tom Bradley Nov. 29, 1972. Stone won 6, lost 11 for the Sox, then became a Cub and he won 23 games while losing 20 for the Bruins over three seasons.

Stone is a 1969 graduate of Kent State U., with a degree in education; he had a distinguished baseball career at KSU where he was a batterymate of Catcher Thurman Munson of the Yankees. A Chicago resident, Stone has made his mark as a poet, gourmet and wine connoisseur. He is associated with a restaurant group known as "Lettuce Entertain You," and his poetry has been published in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago papers and in the national Jewish monthly.

THOMAS, Stanley Brown RHP No. 41

Born July 11, 1949 in Rumford, Maine. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws right. Single. Lives in Redmond, Washington.

Thomas was an effective pitcher in the American League in 1975-76, when he worked in 83 games, winning 8 games while losing 8, as he made eight starts but worked mostly out of the bullpen.

Thomas attended high school at Mexico (Maine) High School and attended both the University of New Haven, Conn., and Florida State U. He was named on the NAIA All-American team in 1971. That was his first pro season, also, and his ERA of 1.63 led the New York-Penn league.

Thomas majored in college in criminal justice and has a degree in that field. Originally signed by the Washington Senators (Texas Rangers), Thomas was traded to Cleveland at the 1975 winter meetings, along with Infielder Ron Pruitt for Catcher John Ellis. Then Seattle acquired Thomas in the Expansion Draft from Cleveland, November 5, 1976.

VERHOEVEN, John C. RHP No. 51

Born July 3, 1953, in Long Beach, California. Height: 6 ft., 5 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Kathy Randolph. Lives in Mission Viejo. California.

An all-around athlete at Valley Christian High School, Cerritos, California, Verhoeven was captain and all-league in baseball and basketball and also played tight end on the Prep 11 for two seasons. John then majored in education at Westmont college, Santa Barbara, CA., and LaVerne college while pitching for the college nines for 4 seasons and making the All-District team three years.

Scout Dick Wiencek signed Verhoeven for the California Angels and he started his pro baseball career with Quad-Cities in 1974. The bullpen has been his only assignment as he has started but one game in four years. In his minor league career, Verhoeven has compiled one of the most impressive won-and-lost marks on record, winning 19 games while losing only 4 contests. Verhoeven was impressive in half a dozen relief roles after the White Sox obtained the tall righthander last summer, as he had an ERA of 2.61.

WOOD, Wilbur Forrester, Jr. LHP No. 28

Born October 22, 1941, in Cambridge, Massachusetts. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats right, throws left. Married Sandra Malcolm. Lives in Lexington, Massachusetts.

Wood, a chubby faced competitor with a soft Boston accent, plucked himself from the jaws of oblivion by learning to control baseball's most baffling pitch—the knuckleball. As a result, Wood became the only pitcher in White Sox history to win 20 or more games for 4 consecutive seasons.

The White Sox purchased Wood from Pittsburgh Oct. 12, 1966; he was a relief pitcher for Chicago until 1971, when Manager Chuck Tanner switched the southpaw to a starting role. Wood responded with 22 victories that season, followed up with 24 triumphs in each of the 1972 and 1973 campaigns, then won 20 games in 1974 for a remarkable total of 90 victories in four years.

Wood was named The Sporting News Pitcher of the Year in 1972. Back in 1968 he won The Sporting News American League Fireman of the Year award.

Wood had won four games and has an ERA of 2.25 for the first month of the season in 1976, when tragedy struck. A shot off the bat of Detroit's Ron LeFlore on May 9th in Tiger Stadium broke Wood's left kneecap. The ageless knuckleballer, with 147 lifetime victories and an ERA of 3.00 was thru for the season. But the determined veteran started his comeback in 1977 as he worked 123 innings, with a 7-8 record.

Wood picked up the knuckleball by accident from his father while in junior high. He was a prep star at Belmont (Mass.) High, the state champions of 1959 and 1960. The latter year Wood was selected to the Hearst All-America High School team, leading to his signing with the Boston Red Sox.

BANE, Edward Norman LHP No. 49

Born March 22, 1952, in Great Lakes, Illinois. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 171 lbs. Bats right, throws left. Married. Lives in Westminster, California.

Bane is another of the numerous Arizona State University alumni now in professional baseball. A journalism major who signed a Twins bonus contract after his third year at Arizona State, Bane pitched in two college World Series, earning All America honors. He won 40 games while losing only 4 for Arizona. Bane's first pro experience was with Minnesota as he appeared in 23 games for the Twins in 1973.

The next two seasons Bane won 25 games for Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League, earning him another shot with the Twins. Bane ended the '75 campaign with a 3-1 mark for Minnesota, then split the '76 season between Tacoma and the Twins. In 1977 Bane spent the entire campaign in the Pacific Coast circuit, winning 9 and losing 8 for Tacoma.

While attending Arizona State, Bane was a journalism major; he had one scoreless string of 43 consecutive innings while pitching for Arizona.

Born June 15, 1942, in California, Pennsylvania. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married Helene Horovitz. Lives in Carnegie, Pennsylvania.

The White Sox signed Dal Canton as a free agent during 1977 spring training. However, after 8 relief appearances, the veteran knuckleballer injured his right elbow and he went on the disabled list. The injury persisted during the season and late in the year he was released. Dal Canton has had more than a decade of big league experience pitching for Pittsburgh, Kansas City and Atlanta. Bruce started using the knuckleball in 1974.

Kansas City obtained Dal Canton from Pittsburgh December 2, 1970 and released him on waivers to Atlanta June 20, 1975. Dal Canton hurled for Bob Lemon when the White Sox manager was the Royals' skipper.

HINTON, Richard Michael LHP No. 47

Born May 22, 1947, in Tucson, Arizona. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws left. Married. Lives in Tucson, Arizona.

Hinton began his professional baseball career in the White Sox organization. A former U. of Arizona pitcher, Hinton made his pro debut in 1969 with Lynchburg of the Carolina League. After three seasons in the Pacific Coast League, Hinton came up to the White Sox in 1971 and had a 3-4 mark in 18 appearances.

On October 13, 1971, the White Sox traded Hinton to the Yankees for Outfielder Jim Lyttle; a year later, the Yanks shipped Hinton to Texas. After a stop with the Cleveland organization, Hinton returned to the White Sox farm system in 1974. Rich came up to the White Sox in 1975 as a reliefer, getting in 15 contests, with a 1-0 record.

On December 12, 1975, Hinton was traded along with catcher Jeff Sovern to Cincinnati for Pitcher Clay Carroll. Hinton split 1976 between Indianapolis and Cincinnati. In 1977 Hinton pitched for the Mexico City Reds, winning 14 games while losing only 8, with an ERA of 2.90.

JAMES, Arthur, Jr. OF No. 40

Born August 2, 1952, in Detroit, Michigan. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 160 lbs. Bats right, throws left. Lives in Detroit, Michigan.

James was the No. 6 selection of the Detroit Tigers in the January, 1972, Free Agent draft. Each of his first four season in pro baseball James received all-star honors. James was the regular centerfielder on the Evansville Triplets who won the American Association pennant and Junior World Series title in 1975.

James started that year with Detroit, hitting .225 in 11 contests. He missed the 1976 season due to an injury but rebounded in impressive fashion in 1977, hitting a solid .288 in 116 games for Evansville, with 48 RBI's and 16 stolen bases. A speedster who was a Detroit native, James swiped 48 bases for Clinton of the Midwest League in 1973—his second season in pro baseball.

James led the Appalachian outfielders in fielding as a rookie in 1972 and he topped the Midwest League in putouts, assists and stolen bases in 1973.

JOHNSON, Larry Doby C No. 54

Born August 17, 1950, in Cleveland, Ohio. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married. Lives in East Cleveland, Ohio.

A former Cleveland prep and college athlete, Johnson has a background of almost 10 seasons of minor league experience, plus four trials with major league clubs.

Johnson started his pro career in Sarasota as an Indian farm product in 1968. The following year the husky receiver led Western Carolina League catchers in fielding and he repeated this feat in the Southern League in 1971. Montreal acquired Johnson in January, 1975, in exchange for an ex White Sox farm hand hurler, Mike Baldwin.

Last year Johnson caught for the champion Denver club of the American Association, hitting .279 in 94 games, with eight home runs. Johnson had brief trials with Cleveland in 1972 and 1974 and with Montreal in 1975 and again in 1976.

PAZIK, Michael Joseph LHP No. 67

Born January 26, 1950, in Lynn, Massachusetts. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 186 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Lynn, Massachusetts.

Injuries incurred in an automobile crash early in the 1977 season temporarily halted Pazik's big league career but he is attempting a comeback this spring. The big southpaw has had three trials with Minnesota, the last being terminated early last year by injuries.

In 1976 Pazik was with the Twins until June 1st, then went to the Pacific Coast league, where he led the circuit in shutouts with three and posted a 14-5 record for a .737 win-percentage. An All-Star choice in the International League in 1973, Pazik tossed a no-hitter in his first appearance in that loop, August 31, 1971, stopping Rochester, 5-0.

PROLY, Michael James RHP No. 56

Born December 15, 1950, in Jamaica, New York. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married. Lives in St. Petersburg, Florida.

A former Long Island (NY) prep and St. John's University diamond star, Proly brings some excellent relief credentials to the White Sox. Proly was selected by the St. Louis Cardinals in the June, 1972 Free Agent draft and made his pro debut with St. Petersburg that summer. Proly had a 14-5 record and an ERA of 1.76 in 37 games for St. Petersburg the following season. That earned him a promotion to Arkansas in 1974, where he notched an impressive 8-2 record in 39 contests, with an ERA of 2.76.

In 1975 Proly worked in 55 games for triple-A Tulsa, winning 7 and saving 17 more. That earned him a trial with St. Louis in 1976 and he worked in 14 games in relief, then finished up at Tulsa.

The Twins affiliate at Tacoma drafted Proly off the roster of the Cards' Arkansas farm club of the Texas League in December, 1976. Proly had a 9-12 record for Tacoma last summer.

SCARBERY, Randy James RHP No. 45

Born June 22, 1952, in Fresno, California. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married. Lives in Fresno, California.

Scarbery won 36 games while losing only 8 for the University of Southern California in 1970-73, as he won All-American honors for that school. Signed by Oakland, he played under the late Sherman Lollar, former White Sox catching great, at Tucson for two seasons. He played on pennant winning clubs at Tucson in 1973 and Chattanooga in 1976.

As a prep athlete, this German youngster from Fresno starred in three sports—baseball, football and basketball—at Roosevelt High School; he captained his cage five and was selected as the prep player of the year in baseball.

SMITH, Cleopherus OF No. 66

Born October 11, 1953, in Marvell, Arkansas. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws right. Single. Lives in Richmond, California.

Lamar Johnson blasted 109 minor league home runs enroute to big league stardom; the White Sox hope they have another hitter with the sock of Johnson in the person of Cleo Smith, ex-Dodger. Smith was the No. 2 selection of Los Angeles in the June, 1972 Free Agent draft and in his six seasons in the minors the righthanded slugger has walloped 98 roundtrippers.

Last year Smith cracked 16 homers and batted in 56 tallies in just 95 games in the Texas League; that followed a 20-homer season Smith had in the Coast loop the year previous.

Smith started his pro career in 1972 with Ogden, hitting .309 to earn Pioneer League All-Star honors as well as Northern California Rookie of the Year laurels. The next year Smith again made the All-Star team as he batted in 95 runs and belted 23 home runs for Bakersfield. Smith was a star athlete at Harry Ellis High, Richmond, CA., where he batted .462 as a senior.

WORTHAM, Richard Cooper LHP No. 52

Born October 22, 1953, in Odessa, Texas. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats right, throws left. Married. Lives in Austin, Texas.

A former prep baseball star at Odessa High in Texas, Wortham is a graduate of the University of Texas; there he set an NCAA record when he won 50 games while losing only 7 in his collegiate career. Rich pitched for a Pan American team and also for the U.S. All-Stars in Japan. He was the White Sox No. 2 choice in the secondary phase of the January, 1976, Free Agent draft. In the winter of 1977-78, Wortham pitched very effectively for Hermosillo, Mexico.
